10 Million-Dollar Program Announced

 Commencement Exercises to Honor 651 Students *****

Two Doctor Degrees Are Slated

Two honorary doctorate degrees, 44 master's degrees and approximately 605 bachelor's degrees will be given at the 78th commencement exercises which will take place Monday, June 8, at 8 a.m. in the Brigham Young University fieldhouse.

The doctorate degrees will be awarded to Dr. Adam S. Ben-nison, who is also the principal commencement speaker, and to Pres. Stephen L. Richards. Dr. Ben-nison will receive an honorary doctor of letters degree and President Richards will be awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree for his long and distinguished career as an attorney, businessman, and church leader.

In the other degrees to be awarded, the graduate college announces that there will be 44 graduate students who will receive their master's degrees. There will be 605 graduating seniors who will receive their bachelor's degrees. These seniors come from 27 states, one territory, and four foreign countries.

These seniors will begin their commencement week activities with the convocation's assembly. On Monday rehearsal has been scheduled for all graduates in the fieldhouse at 4:25 p.m. On Friday, June 5, at 6 p.m. the senior class trek will be held following the class assemblies at College Hall.

Baccalaureate services Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the fieldhouse will be addressed by Elder Marion G. Romney of the Council of the Twelve.

Eight Man Cabinet Selected To Advise Executive Council

Final step in the reorganization of Brigham Young University's student government was completed Tuesday morning when the executive council-elect released the names of the student cabinet.

An eight-man cabinet has been selected by next year's executive council to serve in an advisory and functional capacity.

Cabinet members will include Beverly Hoyack, AWS president; Jim Geddes, AMS president; Russ Mickelson, LOC president; Rick and Clark, student program bureau; Andy Douglas, public relations; Ken Perry, campus publicity; Dwain Stevenson, pep rally and half-time activities, and Boyd Lake, student athletics.

Campus publicity and public relations are newly created offices, and gathering together the group of eight into a cabinet is also an innovation. It came from recommendations made by a committee on student government reorganization. The committee was appointed by the present executive council.

It was believed by student leaders that this new step in student government will result in smoother functioning and better coordination of activities next year.

 Wilkinson Plans Reveal Seven New Buildings; Student Union 'Not Yet' *****

Brigham Young University's immediate future calls for a $10,000,000 building program, according to an announcement made today by Pres. Ernest L. Wilkinson.

Approximately $5,000,000 will be spent on student housing, with another $5,000,000 on academic and service buildings in what will be the largest single university building program in the history of Utah.

Sixteen of a contemplated 21 apartment units are in the process of construction or have been completed. This phase of the building program will house 860 women and 900 men.

Academic Buildings

The seven academic and service buildings planned include: student service center, already completed, family living center, administration building, engineering building, health center, a greenhouse, and warehouse. About $700,000 in improvements to existing buildings has also been planned.

When contacted concerning a student union building, President Wilkinson said that it should be forgotten for the present, but that it would come in time.

President Wilkinson said the work will get underway on the major new buildings before the next school term, and two firms of architects, Fred L. Markham of Provo and Petzer & Petzer of Salt Lake City, have been engaged to speed drafting of plans.

Location Not Determined

Location of all the buildings has not been determined, but Pres. Wilkinson said no additional property will be needed for the buildings. The structures will be placed on present property owned by the university and allocated to housing and academic buildings. A committee of experts has been appointed to draft an overall long range plan for campus development.

In construction and design, all the new buildings are expected to follow the architecture and materials of the large recent developments on campus. These are of modern and functional design in blond brick and pressed white stone.

The vast project will increase academic floor space of the university by 50 per cent and the housing capacity of the dormitory area by about 100 per cent.

Greatest single unit will be the family living center, expected to be the largest building on campus.

Grad Division Scholarship Program Released

Brigham Young University and the Board of Trustees have established 50 scholarships for graduate students.

These scholarships will be awarded for the school year of 1953-54, and are awarded solely on the basis of high academic achievement.

Dr. Christen Jensen, acting dean of the graduate school, said that the following scholarships will be established: ten graduate scholarships of $500 plus free tuition, ten graduate scholarships of $300 plus free tuition, and 30 graduate tuition scholarships of $100.

'Red School House' Program on Friday

The senior class will present the last assembly of the school year tomorrow. The final presentation promises to be an interesting depiction of school life from the "little red school house," through college life and will include a projection into the future.

According to Olene Smith, next year's student body officers will receive their oath of office as part of the program. Miss Smith, chairman of the energetic student assembly committee, also stated that trophies for the outstanding assembly of the quarter and of the year will be awarded.

Elder Richards Gives Talk In Devotional

"No patriarch has a blessing for anyone, the blessing is from God," emphasized Elder Le Grand Richards of the Council of Twelve in devotional yesterday.

Speaking to over 5,000 students and guests in the fieldhouse, Elder Richards directed his remarks to Patriarchal blessings

Overseas Study Awards Available to Y Grads

Competitions for United States Government scholarships for graduate study abroad for 1954-55 are now open, according to the Institute of International Education.

A brochure describing overseas study awards under the Fulbright Program and the Buenos Aires Convention Program has just been published by the Institute, and application blanks are available in the office of Dr. Harold W. Lee, Fulbright adviser at BYU.

The Fulbright and Buenos Aires Convention Programs are part of the educational exchange activities of the Department of State. They will give almost 1000 American citizens the chance to study abroad during the 1954-55 academic year. Since the establishment of the Fulbright program in 1947, over 200 American students have gone abroad under its auspices and 900 more are scheduled to go in September, 1953. Under the older Buenos Aires Convention Program sixteen Latin American countries have each offered awards to one or two Americans a year since the program's inception in 1937.

Countries where U.S. graduate students may study under the Fulbright Program are Australia, Austria, Belgium and Luxembourg, Burma, Ceylon, Denmark, Egypt, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, India, Iraq, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, the Philippines, Sweden, Thailand, Union of South Africa, and the United Kingdom. Ceylon and Sweden, newest countries in the program, signed agreements with the United States during the last year.

Eligibility requirements for these foreign study fellowships are:

- (1) United States citizenship.
- (2) A college degree or its equivalent at the time the award is to be taken.
- (3) Knowledge of the language of the country sufficient to carry on the proposed study.

study.

(4) Good health.

Final selection of Fulbright grantees is made by the Board of Foreign Scholarships appointed by the President of the United States. The Institute of International Education, central private agency in the U.S. administering programs for the exchange of students, teachers, and specialists, is the agency designated by the Board of Foreign Scholarships and the Department of State to screen applications. Under the Buenos Aires Convention, the Institute makes the preliminary recommendation of candidates for study within their borders.

Competition for the 1954-55 academic year closes October 31, 1953. An exception is the program for Australia and New Zealand, for which October is the closing date.

Utah Graduate Head Sets Fireside Talk

The fireside is sponsored by Campus Dorn and will also feature David Dalton as a violin soloist. Everyone is invited.

Opera Group Elects

Richard Dastrup, Provo, was named this week as Opera Workshop president for 1953-54.

Named to serve with Mr. Dastrup were LaRae Dunn, Boise, Ida, vice president; Carolyn Kall, Idaho, Deila, social chairman;

Allen Hall Reverts To Male Students

Allen Hall will be used for living quarters for the men on campus next year, according to an announcement made today by Fred Schwendman, chairman of student housing.

Allen Hall was originally built for a boys' dorm, but was turned into a girls' dorm several years ago. With the new housing unit now being erected for the girls, however, it is felt that men's living quarters should be expanded from those in the Wyomont dormitories. Mr. Schwendman stated.

Kate McGuire, Heber, publicity chairman; and James Kimball, Salt Lake City, historian.

and their importance. "We are the only church which understands what a Patriarch is," he commented.

"In order to understand patriarchal blessings . . . we must understand pre-existence," he stated. Relating the story of pre-existence and creation, he continued with the coming of Christ and the fact that Christ had pre-existence and that the old Patriarchs knew of it. Elder Richards pointed out that many scriptures were Patriarchal blessings of many leaders of God and that we have Patriarchs today who are still fulfilling this calling.

Seniors Must File To Continue GI

Graduating seniors must file applications with the veteran's coordinator in the Masonic building immediately if they plan further schooling under the GI bill.

Students under PL 346 who plan to teach school next fall and continue schooling during the summers must enroll for at least one term this summer, it was announced.

Korean veterans must also contact the coordinator's office to sign attendance forms before the end of Spring quarter.

Graduating fees for senior students studying under PL 346 are automatically paid by the Veterans Administration. It is not necessary to apply for payment.

Music Majors Gain Boston Symphony Summer Study Aid

Vote To Be Taken Friday On Honor Code Procedure

After approval by both administration and faculty, the newly-revised Honor Code procedure will run the gamut of student opinion Friday.

Robert Thorn, new chairman of the council, said Wednesday that the student body would have an opportunity to vote on the new procedures at Friday's assembly.

Several changes in basic philosophy have been included in the code. Chief among them will be the policy of stressing help and counseling for offending students, with an opportunity for reformation, before punishment. Honor counselors will be assigned to reported violators in an effort to propagate a program of education and reformation.

A little clearer definition of code violations has also been made. Academic misconduct shall consist of giving or receiving aid in an examination, or in the preparation of individual work in or out of the classroom unless the instructor has specified that such action is permissible.

Non-academic misconduct shall consist of any violation of Christian standards of proper conduct such as infractions of personal honor, integrity, or morality, and in conduct not in keeping with LDS standards. This area applies both on and off campus.

Individual responsibility to report violations is also stressed. Under the new code, reporting violators will be helping them achieve higher goals, rather than bringing them up for immediate trial.

The new code states that it is not punitive either in purpose or procedure. "It is to be administered in the spirit of helpfulness in the interest of education and traditions of honor, and in the interest of the student alleged to have violated its provisions. No terminology common to criminal law shall be used in the code. . . ."

Honor Council members were hopeful that students would take time to study the document and be prepared to support it in the coming year.

Date for Summer School Registration Will Be June 14 Announces Dean Ballif

Summer quarter registration will be June 15 in the fieldhouse, according to an announcement released today by Dr. Arval S. Ballif, dean of the summer session.

Registration times will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon for students with last names beginning with letters from A through K. Those with names from L to Z will register from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

All students who plan to attend summer school should notify university admissions officer Orin Jackson in room 280 Mueser building immediately," Dr. Ballif advised. He said preparation of registration materials and packets must be prepared for registrants.

Present applications indicate an increasing number of regular students are planning to attend summer school, which suggests a record enrollment for the quarter.

Payment of tuition and fees for the summer quarter can be made in advance at the treasurer's office.

Rose Marie Reid to Address Assembly Forum Next Week

Rose Marie Reid, nationally known designer and manufacturer of women's swim wear, will address the Brigham Young University forum assembly Monday.

Miss Reid's rise to fame in the fashion world has the flavor of a typically American success story. As an accomplished young interest in the student body at large.

A Letter-day Saint, Miss Reid says that her religion has been a substantial factor in her successful enterprise.

Wye Magazine Hits Stands Next Week

The spring issue of WYE, the student magazine, is due to be distributed on the campus during the last week of school.

Each person who owns an activity card will be entitled to pick up one copy, and the points of distribution will be the main hall of the Grant Library, the

Big Sisters Meet Today In Brimhall

A meeting for all Big Sisters will be held today at 4 p.m. in 170 Brimhall. All girls who have filled in Big Sister applications are asked to attend. Duties and responsibilities of the Big Sister program will be explained.

The lobby of the Smith building, the lobby of the Education building, and the lobby of the Physical Science building.

The WYE may be purchased without activity cards at the bookstore in the student service center for 25 cents per copy, and in Salt Lake City may be purchased at the Desert Book Co.

Building Program

The administration building, as projected, will be about the size of the Heber J. Grant library, but will contain three floors and will utilize office space more efficiently.

The student health center will approximate the recently-constructed student service center in size.

The men's dormitory development is expected to consist of five new buildings with central cafeteria operations to accommodate 800 men. It possibly will approach the family living center or the Science building in cost.

Nation's Largest

The family life center is expected to be the largest thing of its kind in the country. With the heavy Letter-day Saint account on wholesome family life, the building will have significance for the entire church, and will house departments related to proper home management and well-adjusted family living. Scheduled presently to enter the new building are the entire area of home economics, the school of nursing, sociology department and psychology department.

Architects will study ways in which the center may assist the Welfare and Genealogical program of the Church.

According to Mr. Markham, an interesting innovation will be an outdoor garden in a court closely connected with an indoor reception area. This could serve as a play area for child training, for garden parties of students and faculty and other groups and for fashion shows of the clothing students.

The school of nursing will be complete with hospital nursing arts laboratories, home nursing laboratory, classrooms, offices, linen and equipment rooms, sterilizing rooms, etc.

Home for Home Ec

Home economics departments probably will occupy the greatest space, with an entire home for home management practice, nursery school, display rooms, reception room, food laboratories, laundry room, lunch rooms, and kitchen in connection with large quantity cookery, textiles laboratories and furniture repair and upholstery workroom in addition to many classrooms and offices.

The engineering building, warehouse and greenhouse will be comparatively smaller structures.

Y Scribe Finds Campus Dead Without Males

by Colleen Young
UNIVERSITY STAFF WRITER

Were men to disappear from this campus, how weary, stale, flat and unprofitable would be the aspect of the Brigham Young University and of the world.

These male members of our student body are all objects of beauty. We, as females, fail to appreciate them as thoroughly as we should. The pleasures conveyed to us by them are so much things of course, and exist so much without intermission, that we scarcely think either of their number, their nature, or the great proportion which they constitute, in the whole mass of our enjoyment.

But, were we, as female students of this university, to be removed from its delightful atmosphere, and its endless varieties of men to the Arabian desert or Yassar, I am sure we would find life a dull, wearisome, melancholy round of existence. Nothing could take the place of our men, for even though we might not find in splendor and a free indulgence of costly food, dress and furniture, we would long once more for our Alma Mater and its perfect specimens of manhood.

Yes, the Brigham Young University, with its fifty-nine per cent males, is a wonderful creature, and its men are wonderful creatures. Why shouldn't they be? Look who brought them into the world.

Eight Balls Dominate Mural Track Go, Set Records

A red hot intramural track team, the Eight Balls, ran away with the intramural track meet Tuesday to pile up more than twice as many points as their nearest rival and take the team trophy.

The Eight Ball team is made up mostly of members of the football squad.

Fourteen teams competed in the meet and more than 194 men saw action under the colors of a social unit or as independents.

New records were set in the 100 yard dash, the 220 dash and the shot put. Louis Hunter, an independent, set a record of 10.4 seconds in the hundred, running in tennis shoes. Laven Sitterfield, also in tennis shoes, ran a 22.1 220 for a new record. In the shot put, Gary Matson put the weight farther than any varsity track man this year, 43 ft. 3 inches for a new record.

Hung Moose were second in the meet with 132 points and the Athenian social third with 105. The Vikings and Saxons tied for fourth.

Baseball Stax Reveal Cats Carry Puny Bats

Statistics recently released by the University Public Relations department show that weak hitting may have been the big reason why the BYU Cougars failed to garner the Skyline baseball crown.

Only two players, Tom Karren and Darrell Crawford, hit 300 or better for the season. Karren led the squad with 333. The team batting average was a puny .211. Ray Lish topped the hurlers with a 4-2 mark.

Crawford scored 21 times to lead the club in that department, while Ralph Morgan hit the year's only home run.

Crawford and Lynn Foster were tops as far as fielding, posting marks of .950 and .963, respectively.

Cougar Trackster Luminaries Number Among AAU Entrants

Records may fall right and left this Saturday when the cream of the current crop of intermountain tracksters get together for the annual AAU track and field meet.

Nate Long, chairman of the Intermountain AAU committee, is very optimistic concerning the meet. He foresees one of the finest in recent years.

The University of Utah stadium will be the site for the meet. Among the records in danger of assault from an eager bunch of speed and muscle-men are the high jump, javelin and hurdles.

The high jump should be the feature event of the day, matching such talented luminaries as Cal Clark, Fred Pratley, Barney Dyer and the Y's own Ralph Bonham. Buzz Yates of Utah and Dick Millett of the Y will clash in the hurdles again.

Defending champion Ralph Boylance will attempt to top his own javelin mark. Other defending champs on hand will include the Cougars' Dick Fanning in the 100 yard dash, and Dale Newbold (220), Oscar Jackson (pole vault), Gerald Tovey (440), and Bill Smith (shotput), all of Utah U. South High's amazing Wayne Ribbel will defend his hurdle crowns against the onslaught of Millett and Yates.

Mural Golf Wins; Ties Pro Score

Kirk Bitter won the intramural golf tournament recently with a score of 141, the same score than a professional golfer from Salt Lake City won the Provo Open tournament with this year on the same course.

Twenty-four contestants were in the open intramural tournament. Bitter was ineligible for the golf team this year because he started second quarter.

THE WINNERS—of the intramural sports trophy for the school year of 1952-53 were the Viking social unit.

The forensic organization is making preparations for a full year of activities during 1953-54 under the direction of forensic manager Dick Devey.

Preparations include informing prospective students as well as those already here about next year's activities.

Lets are being prepared of students on campus who desire information during the summer vacation about the national debate, discussion questions, and other 1953-54 forensic activities. Any other student who would like to receive this information should leave their names and addresses with the forensic officers or with Dr. J. LaVar Bateman.

Plans are underway to contact every incoming freshman during Orientation Week to explain the campus forensic activities designed for students.

The Forensic Week to be held on campus October 19-23 will be expanded to include debates, extemporaneous speaking, oratory, radio speaking, and interpretative reading. The purpose of this week is to hear those students who are most interested in the phases of forensics so they may be chosen for off-campus representation.

Another activity is the preparation of a brochure of next year's programs. This brochure, which will feature pictures of forensic activities, suggestions for next year's programs, and a record of the winners of this year's programs, will be available during the summer for anyone interested.

Registration Fees

The UNIVERSE inaccurately stated in Tuesday's issue that BYU tuition next year would be raised $10. In reality the tuition, which is $25 per quarter, and general fees, which are $25 per quarter, will remain the same. The $10 registration fee announced by Pres. Ernest L. Wilkinson is not part of the tuition fee, but goes merely to take care of incidentals relative to registration.
